

-Param-Nesia Lyrics-

PESTILENCE OF MAN:

The girl beneath the skin.

You thought the years had passed you by Sitting on a shelf You never thought you'd touch the sky Never thought you'd find yourself

A kindly man Who'd understand

The girl beneath the skin

The golden prize faded And dreams turned to dust

Too many nights alone in tears Life never was too much to bare

You needed the Answer

But the passion never died It simply just got lost
And the tears that you cried

Awoke the dust

The girl beneath the skin.

You thought the years had passed you by

Sitting on a shelf You never thought you'd touch the sky
Never thought you'd find yourself

A kindly man Who'd understand

The girl beneath the skin

The golden prize faded And dreams turned to dust

Foresaken:

I'm still waiting for the answers

To all of my prayers Its making me wonder if your even fucking their Too long I've bowed to you Your fucking facilities I've forsaken you
Bitch you've forsaken me

I feel like the one on the cross Without your help I'm fucking lost
It seems that's

I'm the one abandoned My faith has caused this end

This feeling makes me alive inside So why am I still buried alive

I've asked for your salvation I've heard you cry for help Don't question my decision

It'll be your last regret My heart goes out to the heart ache

This feeling will never die This trust for you will break me
For this last time Destroy your own worst nightmare
Kill the broke inside My venom molds to your veins

The king will rise

Burrow deep with demon smoke And Scream Fight for your reaction
Of your Pure reality

Fallen ancients Of the guild Will scream

Fight the Ancients Kill the angels Pure Reality

I feel like the one on the cross Without your help I'm fucking lost
It seems that's

I'm the one abandoned My faith has caused this end

This feeling makes me alive inside So why am I still buried alive

Lethocerus:

We were bred for a singular purpose
Maintain the balance and systems that serve us
Carapace and limbs intertwined
Ordered brutality s sharing one mind
But there is no defence against such a plague
Chemical agents of the anthropos age
Poison meant to purify
Toxic collapse, systems will die
Our numbers count for nothing
Uncountable billions destroyed
Neural pathways dissolving
Royal bloodlines cast to the void
Prepare the legion, arm them with nature's most elegant weapons
Chemical warfare was our invention
The soft-bodied primates, parasites on the fruits of our labour will never survive us, ancient masters of the world

WAR

(scream)

Six-legged death, evolution's greatest triumph
Mankind's society: a mockery of ours
Eusociality, the needs of the colony are all that matter
Short-sighted mammals will be the end of us all
Will be the end of us all!

(solo)

Servile soldiers
March forever
Suicidal
Orders followed
Our extinction
Is just a matter of time
Our destruction is now ensured
But cold revenge will be served
For without us
Mankind will surely die

HOME:

Pray to your maker, beg to be found Trapped within a lucid dream A void, depthless, the darkness Suffering, as the images of your children Fade from minds eye Breaking the will to survive
Encased within an eternal tomb One of your making To lie within and rot away Endlessly throughout the ages Time here stands still, Yet spans the rise and fall Of empires and nations

Die has been cast

The knife has been raised To cut out your heart Scarabs appear from seams in the stone To scour the flesh and blood From your bones They burrow deep beneath the skin Consuming your blackened soul Forever trapped within this place

Welcome home

Ashes replace all hope To ever leave this place Alone with this pain The silence, a crushing embrace

Free me, save me Release me, kill me Anything to escape this fate Blinding, malice Seething, hatred Doomed for eternity

Die has been cast The knife has been raised To cut out your heart Scarabs appear from seams in the stone To scour the flesh and blood From your bones They burrow deep beneath the skin Consuming your blackened soul Forever trapped within this place Welcome home

Ashes replace all hope To ever leave this place

Alone with this pain The silence, a crushing embrace

Journey To Nothing:

Accept this journey to nothing

Your fallen perception Your given the oath Your asking for blood this is the end Your blood thirst Is breaking us down Your covered in it Now you've fallen so let bring you home.

You've gone the distance Stop beating your self Your child will bring the end to this Your down in wishes Stop blaming your self Your knowledge of the death will bring the end.

Now is, your time This is for the ending For the fallen creation To bring forth into madness Break these walls with the vision inside you Get burnt up with the fire that binds you Breaking out is overrated just become your masters favourite Now you sneak around the castle To kill guards that travel past you

Now you enter the kings chambers Too stab ,kill and masquerade him

These stolen riches that created his vindictive self For this reason that your leaving Now he ends up burning in hell

Its time to raise the gates Bring forth the crown Your still the enemy And your broken

Release archers Release soldiers Crawling deep in This is the war we won.

Legions of Rome march towards thy executioner

The Sea of blood shall flow with tides of war that sew, deaths cloak. Angel of war, spare another breath to bring me back home I cant except this fate. Tomorrow will remain but my.... sun will set one last time

The curse of the kings Pressured in glory You lived another sacrifice In this millennium Extending the reign For the sons of RA!

The bones that remain Will be carried away

To the chamber's we left empty as slaves The scarabs have carved you Into a new treasure for the Sacred tomb.

Now you will die and you'll never be altered Now you will die and you'll never be faulted

Your fallen perception Your given the oath Your asking for blood this is the end

Your blood thirst Is breaking us down Your covered in it

Now you've fallen so let bring you home. You've gone the distance

Stop beating your self Your child will bring the end to this Your down in wishes

Stop blaming your self Your knowledge of the death will bring the end to this
