

Silenced Judgement

What did you say? What is conveyed? That I am the one to shame?

Take your hearsay to defame and consume your hypocrisy?

Hideous lies will soon in time fall away, now nullified

Misinformation and your summations will never negate this strength so deeply mine

My rise will always amplify, and then you all will wonder why

Your words have come back onto you, a punishment just so cruel

Soaring higher with burning desire

Mindless enemies will never see this coming

My highest legacy will crush your silenced judgement

Ignorant ways are so inane, and still, you don't even see the aim

Of your selfish ego game is to kill your impotency

Insecure minds will criticize all of whom they perceive in binds

Alienation and degradation will never abate this ever-ceaseless drive

The right to rise is always mine, never again to dwell on swine

My skill will conquer mindless fools, so fuck your claims of worthless spew

Soaring higher with burning desire

Mindless enemies will never see this coming

My highest legacy will crush your silenced judgement

Assessors, Aggressors, is what I've clearly seen
Oppressors will never ever cease my dreams
I conquered the tethers that you imposed on me
Achievers, and true leaders, is who were always free to be

Soaring higher with burning desire
Mindless enemies will never see this coming
My highest legacy will crush your silenced judgement

Apparitions Of Conquest

Ghosts of tyrants will be all you see as you're falling into the depths of dreams
Nighttime violence will lead your feeble mind to a timeless true pain that's now your life

Apparitions of conquest, they will always be your guest
Forceful visions from a life and time far into the afterlife

Vicious power will feed my evil soul as I conquer your will inside your home
Apparitions of figures clocked in black, rise to conquer, prepare for your attack!

Apparitions of conquest, they will always be your guest
Forceful visions from a life and time far into the afterlife
Death is what you will soon face
When the ghosts have won their chase

Evil Spirits dwell deep inside this hell

Awake or asleep you are suffering

Time will only tell if you can lose the spell

But you're in too deep, to die is the only way you'll see

Shadow beings are persisting onwards to bring you never ending pain

This is how it feels when your fate is sealed

Wretchedness, success, unblessed

Your submission into this wicked reign is my pleasure as much as it's your pain

Fear defines you and sinful souls live on. Haunting onwards forever I am strong

Apparitions of conquest, they will always be your guest

Forceful visions from a life and time far into the afterlife

Usurping The Paragon

Blazing forwards on to the day

When your honours been washed away so astray

My true greatness is now so clear

By force I've taken your eminence so severe

Acclaim stolen I am supreme

Your time to prosper is behind in time as I redeem

Tremendous sounds of musical might

Usurping all who dare rise up to me in this fight

Fighting to the death for supremacy

Forces of my life blood will conquer thee

Intimidation from my new energy

Will place you back my grace is forever free

Usurping those who aim to be entities

Of the paragon an ideal being

Pushed aside you are I am the new king

Feel my wrath as I usurp, I win the dream and your esteem

Prideful moments forever mine

The time of rising has been so long in my mind

Now I'm ruthlessly the regime

A victor I am and soaring on I crush your dreams

Fighting to the death for supremacy

Forces of my life blood will conquer thee

Intimidation from my new energy

Will place you back my grace is forever free

Usurping those who aim to be entities

Of the paragon an ideal being

Pushed aside you are I am the new king

Feel my wrath as I usurp, I win the dream and your esteem
My will to conquer had led to the death of times
When I had only squandered potentials and levels of might Inner strength to realize

Stray away from heydays

Feel what I've felt

Suffer as I downplay

Pain, you feel as did I

Revenge is duly mine

And soon you will soon decline

Pray obey in disarray

Kneel to what I've dealt

Usurper I can display

Strength beyond the paragon

My will is ever strong

I'll crush them forever and I will reign for forever on

Fighting to the death for supremacy

Forces of my life blood will conquer thee

Intimidation from my new energy

Will place you back my grace is forever free

Usurping those who aim to be entities

Of the paragon an ideal being

Pushed aside you are I am the new king

Feel my wrath as I usurp, I win the dream and your esteem

At One With Infinity

Rapidly soon to come over me

Is my dreams, I am one with supreme power so blessed unlike the rest

It's clear to me, that I will see

Manifest, coalesced dreams and visions of majesty.

Persevere through the storms of misery

A light year above the ones who cannot see

The path beyond captivity in this life's contingency

Sufficient drive so deep in me and always at one with infinity

I will never die, my life is the fuel

That will take me towards the stars beyond

Your limitations towards a celebration of my strength and truth

That never ever will lose its youth

At one with divine strength to make me fight on to scores of the long-lost majesties

Crash through their weak control, of those that take its toll

I am now at one with infinity

Tearing down everyone that's filled with doubt

My renown will take me for and soon surmount

All of your fears, its soon to be clear that my mind will domineer
Everyone that's on my path, I manifest and make it last Universe within myself forever compelled
Intersperse divine inside forever dwelled
Create the dreams that you perceive in your mind and in your schemes
Divine mind you'll always see, forever at one with sanguinity

Time is always mine to use and see the truth
Of the path towards thy kingdom come
Life is creation of your ideations
The day to rise is near, in times of strife there is no fear
At one with divine strength to make me fight on to scores of the long-lost majesties
Crash through their weak control, of those that take its toll
I am now at I'm at one with infinity

Conquest, cathartic rites upon this night
Progress beyond their limited foresight
Divine Power is always on my side
Entwine with the force of the divine
Cowards they will be and soon they'll see
My dreams have now become reality
You're fools for ever having doubted this
A new life is mine and always oh so bliss

Parasitic Demons

I stray away from the times when you brought about the pain
My mind you pried inside no more ever to control me
They're false your thoughts are wrong I obliterate them all
My force and strength from this day will accelerate your motherfucking fall

Parasitic demons will die today
Parasitic demons are all you'll be
Projections of your own insecurities
Are done, are gone, I've won, I am now free

The lies you hide in your mind of manipulating cold ways
Will find its time in the light and exposed for all to see
Behind your blind frame of mine are the verdicts oh so wrong
The right to own all my might will carry on my will is firm and strong

Parasitic demons will die today
Parasitic demons are all you'll be
Projections of your own insecurities
Are done, are gone, I've won, I am now free

Your descending sway is now so far away
Nevermore to change my mental state
Visions I instate of my life, true change

I am far away and way past all your blame

Never to surrender my will to distill

Parasitic demon's deceptions distractions from truth

Fighting to defy the limits of your mind

The power of existence will live inside unblind

Force fed limitations I reject their placement

I embrace my truth, my will has conjured what I claim improved

Parasites will malign so do I when they come about my way

In sight is my right to perceive all the truths of my own fate

It's mine to create, generate, it's the force to stun them all

Stay in place, you're debased and disgraced as I push my way into days of faith so tall

Parasitic demons will die today

Parasitic demons are all you'll be

Projections of your own insecurities

Are done, are gone, I've won, I am now free

Parasitic demons will die today

Parasitic demons are all you'll be

Projections of your own insecurities

Are done, are gone, I've won, I am now free

Reclaimed Strength

As I close the door towards a pain filled life

Inner strength will rise the power that's inside

I will face the core of the long-lost truth

That I am grandeur and I do not need you

So long did I dream of the time to gleam

Where I've gone on to be transformed you see

Long gone from the past, my strength will make this last

Always will surpass the ones who test my wrath

Power taken back, never off my path

The rise is so fast beyond my past

Non-stop are attacks to those who rudely laughed

Crush them, there is no chance that they can stop my fame so vast

Finding a way beyond all my pain

Times are erased of lethal depths of shame

Force is on display, and never to go away

This is my way, my strength is reclaimed

Labeled time to time, projections of your mind

But I can override the potent terms of thine

Strength beyond you fools, I will choose this fuel

To vanish limitations as I invite renewal

Adapt to a way of faith so unafraid of their false tirade as I'm betrayed

Once more pushing on towards a mind so strong

Overcome the odds again, their words so wrong

Refuse all that's frail, tenacity prevails

Racing down the trails of life availed

Never to give their wrongful claims the time to thrall

They don't even call my name as I walk past them all

Finding a way beyond all my pain

Times are erased of lethal depths of shame

Force is on display, and never to go away

This is my way, my strength is reclaimed

Illusions Of Fragmentation

Facing the depths of my inner scars

Finding the steps on towards the doors

Of a time beyond the longing for a love that will ignite and soon in-still

Internal wealthiness and a newfound bliss

Nevermore to feel the pain as sharp as steel

Fragmentations, a force of illusions

Reclamations of my self-respect

The creation of resolutions

And cessations of power no more to fall

Time after time, I failed to realize

The force deep inside my mind had sufficed

I ascend towards objective truth to make me feel whole complete ideals

A longing laid to rest, dominion now expressed

Now we all are here, with nothing more to fear

Fragmentations, a force of illusions

Reclamations of my self-respect

The creation of resolutions

And cessations of power no more to fall

Death Of Illusory baneful reveries have now strengthened me

Pride is forever inside, this assertive incline

Never deprive my state of being

Shun the weakness I felt in times gone by, dignity now rise

Guide future advancement when hordes of strength and ripe zen

Rise up to defend your mind again

Looking back at times I suffered, it is now clear that my mind was yours

Power given up for illusions, never oh never believe in deceptions again

Facing the depths of my inner scars

Finding the steps on towards the doors

Of a time beyond the longing for a love that will ignite and soon in-still

Internal wealthiness and a newfound bliss

Fragmentations, a force of illusions

Reclamations of my self-respect

The creation of resolutions

And cessations of power no more to fall

Everlasting Ascendency

Forging ever onwards towards my chosen fate

Never will their wrong words ever leave a lasting trace

Fighting on to conquer and so deep inside my mind

Is the will to power and drive so well defined

The way to change is the ascending

Past days of shame and left to yesterday

Always proclaim your inner being

Ascendency will forever last in me

Slicing through the madness and crossways took in life

No more is the sadness an excuse to stop the fight

I am divine malice that will never pass away

Drinking from the chalice of a force that's here to stay

The way to change is the ascending
Past days of shame and left to yesterday
Always proclaim your inner being
Ascendency will forever last in me

Far away long gone from my long-held shame
Ascended on to brand new ways of being me
I am not held back by who I used to be
External situations can never determine what you see

Soaring high beyond all their doubts
I will not surrender to those who cannot tell
That I will always see through all deceit
A life of rejection will never cease my dreams
Despite all the trials that will come to me
Ascendence is forever my source of victory
