

Tempest by Kilmore

Flying by like a hurricane
You bring it to life
Everywhere you go
Calm of the night
The shadow is where you hide
Rolling through the mountains
Everywhere you go
Like a diamond road
Falling from the sky
Burning bright and bold
You can hear the cry
The air is filled tonight
The hills are where you roam
The thunder roars above me
Everywhere it go

The passing of the rain
The wind is high and low
Thunderbolts are rolling
Calling from below
Like a diamond road
Falling from the sky
Burning bright and bold
You can hear the cry

It's electric noise coming from the air

Bring me back to life
The wild world passing by

Flying by like a hurricane
The Gods flying above me
Darkness hides below
Calm of the night
The shadow is where you hide
Rolling through the mountains
Coming from below

Bring me back to life
The wild world passing by Trouble waters are moving down
Down on me

Bring me back to life
It's electric noise burning bright and wild
It's electric noise coming from the air

Omitted

A whisper,
Silent composure,
A life not lived in vain.

A feeling,
It's strangely distant,

All this still remains
Where are the heroes of today? Crashing into each other
We make up all the simple things Calling all us together

Resistances,
Silent persistence,

I know you're the only one
Where are the heroes of today? Crashing into each other
We make up all the simple things Calling all us together

I see you, falling far, falling far away
I see you, you're falling far, falling far away

Where are the heroes of today? Falling into each other
We make up all the simple things Calling all us together
Where are the heroes of today? Crashing into each other
We make up all the simple things

The Destroyer

Where do the days go?
As the night fall
As it blows in the wind

There's a fire
Through an emptiness
That I see in your eyes

You're the destroyer.
And you build it up, just to burn it down
Deceiving like the wind
As the game goes
You seek it out
You can't see what is there

You're the destroyer.
A black star that use to shine bright
Here comes the fire
Burning it out of you from the inside

You drag along
Nothing more
Take your time
Take it all
X2

You're the destroyer.
A black star that use to shine bright
Here comes the fire
Burning it out of you from the inside out

You're the destroyer
Out from the inside
You're the destroyer
Out from the inside

Firestone

Broken and Alone
Sitting by the firestone
And I'm reaching for the sun
Crawling in the dark
And I'm far from home
Am I pleading to the Sun

Shining your light through On the riverside
Tell the reason
Is it weighing you down?

In your hideaway
Searching the unknown
Are you closer to the one?
Trying to pretend
That we have no end
That we come here alone

Shining your light through
And you're mystified
Tell me the meaning
Is it written in the stars

Shining your light through
Are we unified
Tell me the reason
That you've broken it apart

Your broken to the bone
Your in your hideaway
Are you closer to the light?
Are you closer to the one?

See the firestone
In your hideaway
Are you closer to it,
Closer to the light?
In your firestone
See a different light
Are you closer to it,
Closer to the one?

Shining your light through
On the riverside
Tell the reasons
Is it weighing you down?

Shining your light through
Are you're mystified
Tell me the meaning
Is it weighing you down?

Underneath

Soaring down, fall to the ground.
Frozen in time, it spins around.
Through the doorway in my mind

Bring it up, then tearing it down
Looking inside, starring blind
I'm the one who's buried and sound.

And you fall behind,
and you're burning through.
You took me down,
And I'm floating in the moonlight.
You are somebody,
who will let it go

But life is hard,
When you are roaming through the desert.
Disappeared and hanging fear.
Nothing is wrong but you're holding on,
Decaying in your mind.
Frozen here and losing the years.
Let myself be in envy
Fall down to the deep underneath.

You fall behind
and you're burning through
You took me down and I'm floating in the moonlight
You are somebody who will let it go
But life is hard when you are waking through the dessert.

Roaming through the land.
You bring it to me but it's blurry.
Roaming through the land.
Your heart skips a beat,
Don't worry.

And you fall behind,
and you're burning through..
You took me down,
And I'm floating in the moonlight.

You are somebody,
Who will let it go

But life is hard,
When you are roaming through the desert.
Oh your walking away
But I will live through this day
x2

Rapture

Time is taking my life away
Are you living this life right?
You are telling me what to say
Everybody waiting in line.
La la la la la la la la la la

Spasm, syncope, delirium
Blood floating to my brain.
Loss of consciousness
A missing beat on the drum
La la la la la la la la la la

Uncontrollable excitement
Are you questioning my mental state?
Temporary state of confusion
It's a delusion running through my head.
La la la la la la la la la la

It's a Revelation
Hallucinations